Awarded Silver in the 2015 National Trust Queensland Heritage Awards

The Brisbane Art Deco project and publication has been awarded a Silver award in the 2015 National Trust Queensland Heritage Awards for demonstrating excellence in the interpretation and promotion of Queensland's history and cultural heritage.

The 2015 National Trust Queensland Heritage Awards presentation was held on 20th August at Old Government House. The awards recognise outstanding activities that conserve and promote Queensland's cultural heritage.

The Brisbane Art Deco project is supported by the Brisbane City Council and the Art Deco & Modernism Society. The publication Brisbane Art Deco: Stories of our Built Heritage was officially launched in June 2015, and documents and celebrates a selection of our favourite residential and commercial Art Deco buildings.

By sharing some of the interesting stories about a particular aspect of Brisbane's built heritage, we hope that we can highlight its significance in the fabric of our city, contribute to ensuring that this architecture is increasingly valued in our community, and strengthen efforts to preserve and protect such examples into the future.

The publication is available for purchase via the website: www.brisbaneartdeco.com.au, sold in a range of local bookstores, and available as reference material in local and national libraries.
